

The Center for Anti-Counterfeiting and Product Protection (A-CAPP) at Michigan State University offers the following education opportunities that are open to existing students and working professionals

Graduate Certificate

Anti-Counterfeit and Product Protection Criminology

Certificate provides a holistic and all-encompassing overview of the product counterfeiting threat. The program includes content focusing on overall criminology theory and international crime.

More information

Certificate and academic courses can be completed individually or as part of a certificate, Master's or Ph.D. program

Academic Courses

Online Summer 2014

Introduction to Product Counterfeiting

Students will explore the elements of product counterfeiting and begin to understand how this elicit trade functions, its multidimensional effects, and formal responses to it.

More information

Understanding Product Counterfeiting

Students will explore the product counterfeiting phenomenon, including definitions, legal framework, extent, responses and theory examination.

More information

Executive Education

Custom Workshops

The workshops are designed to be customized by the end user and will provide attendees with an insight into product protection, brand protection, and anti-counterfeit strategy.

Contact A-CAPP
517.432.2204
acapp@msu.edu

www.a-capp.msu.edu